DESCRIPTION/SPECIFICATIONS/WORK STATEMENT
PURPOSE:

The 506 Combat Sustainment Squadron (CBSS), Hill Air Force Base, has a need to redesign the Swivel and Clip Assembly (P/N 8983524) for the FMU-143 P/B and FMU-143 Q/B fuze variants. This redesigned swivel and clip assembly requires higher shear force ratings for FMU-143 P/B and FMU-143 Q/B applications on all GBU-28 variants on the B-2A and F-15E Aircrafts.

OBJECTIVES:

Objective 1:

Find the maximum force (pounds) that the existing swivel and clip assembly can withstand when the copper shear wire is replaced with a material that ensures the weak link is not the shear wire. Test temperatures must occur at both ambient and -65 \\'baF. The results will be used to determine if the swivel and clip assembly can structurally meet the increased shear force requirements or the assembly must be redesigned. Since the swivel and clip assembly will be at cold temperatures during operational use, the force and failure mechanism must be known. If the swivel and clip assembly cannot structurally meet a minimum of 600 pounds when tested at -65 \\'baF, the contractor shall determine options involved to redesign the swivel and clip assembly that will provide the least amount of changes to the original form of the design. Initial redesign concepts shall be submitted to 506 CBSS for review and approval before proceeding to Objective 2.

Objective 2:

Find a coating that can be applied to Swivel and Clip Assembly parts (i.e. Dwgs 8983443 Pull Ring , 8983444 Swivel Sling, 8983445 Pull Ring Adapter, 8983446 Split Clip, 8983447 Swivel Base) that the user will be able to physically distinguish between the new Swivel and Clip Assembly and the existing Swivel and Clip Assembly (Dwg 8983524). A possible solution may include an applied black oxide coating per MIL-DTL-13924. Any coating shall not restrict the overall fit, form or function of the swivel and clip assembly (e.g. must freely rotate).

Objective 3:

- Find a shear wire material for the Swivel and Clip Assembly (Dwg 8983524 Find No. 6) that will increase the existing pull force requirement (86 to 145 pounds) to a minimum of 220 pounds when tested at ambient as specified in Note 6 of drawing 8983524. If possible, the maximum pull force requirements at -65\'baF should be no greater than 400 pounds.
- Develop a shear wire specification for the new shear wire material that is similar to the FZU-48/B shearing wire specification (See Drawing 8385276 in the Appendix) with appropriate testing to determine the static shear force values at 220\'baF, Ambient, and -65\'baF.

Objective 4:

Submit final report to 506 CBSS detailing test results and conclusions/recommendations for the redesigned swivel and clip assembly.

Objective 5:

- 1. Generate any new drawings and specifications for the new swivel and clip design. Air Force shall deliver and assign any new drawing numbers to the contractor for this effort.
- 2. Upon completion, one original paper copy, pdf files, and CAD files of the drawing package shall be submitted to Hill Air Force Base at the following address:

6034 Dogwood Avenue, Bldg. 1257

(a) Definitions. As used in this clause

Automatic identification device means a device, such as a reader or interrogator, used to retrieve data encoded on machine-readable media.

Concatenated unique item identifier means

(1) For items that are serialized within the enterprise identifier, the linking together of the unique identifier data elements in order of the issuing agency code, enterprise identifier, and unique serial number within the enterprise identifier; or

(2) For items that are serialized within the original part, lot, or batch number, the linking together of the unique identifier data elements in order of the issuing agency code; enterprise identifier; original part, lot, or batch number; and serial number within the original part, lot, or batch number.

Data qualifier means a specified character (or string of characters) that immediately precedes a data field that defines the general category or intended use of the data that follows.

DoD recognized unique identification equivalent means a unique identification method that is in commercial use and has been recognized by DoD. All DoD recognized unique identification equivalents are listed at <http://www.acq.osd.mil/dpap/UID/equivalents.html>.

DoD unique item identification means a system of marking items delivered to DoD with unique item identifiers that have machine-readable data elements to distinguish an item from all other like and unlike items. For items that are serialized within the enterprise identifier, the unique item identifier shall include the data elements of the enterprise identifier and a unique serial number. For items that are serialized within the part, lot, or batch number within the enterprise identifier, the unique item identifier shall include the data elements of the enterprise identifier; the original part, lot, or batch number; and the serial number.

Enterprise means the entity (e.g., a manufacturer or vendor) responsible for assigning unique item identifiers to items.

Enterprise identifier means a code that is uniquely assigned to an enterprise by an issuing agency.

Governments unit acquisition cost means

(1) For fixed-price type line, subtitle, or exhibit line items, the unit price identified in the contract at the time of delivery;

(2) For cost-type or undefinitized line, subtitle, or exhibit line items, the Contractors estimated fully burdened unit cost to the Government at the time of delivery; and

(3) For items produced under a time-and-materials contract, the Contractors estimated fully burdened unit cost to the Government at the time of delivery.

Issuing agency means an organization responsible for assigning a non-repeatable identifier to an enterprise (i.e., Dun & Bradstreets Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number, Uniform Code Council (UCC) /EAN International (EAN) Company Prefix, or Defense Logistics Information System (DLIS) Commercial and Government Entity (CAGE) Code.

Issuing agency code means a code that designates the registration (or controlling) authority for the enterprise identifier.

Item means a single hardware article or a single unit formed by a grouping of subassemblies, components, or constituent parts.

Lot or batch number means an identifying number assigned by the enterprise to a designated group of items, usually referred to as either a lot or a batch, all of which were manufactured under identical conditions.

Machine-readable means an automatic identification technology media, such as bar codes, contact memory buttons, radio frequency identification, or optical memory cards.

Original part number means a combination of numbers or letters assigned by the enterprise at item creation to a class of items with the same form, fit, function, and interface.

Parent item means the item assembly, intermediate component, or subassembly that has an embedded item with a unique item identifier or DoD recognized unique identification equivalent.

Serial number within the enterprise identifier means a combination of numbers, letters, or symbols assigned by the enterprise to an item that provides for the differentiation of that item from any other like and unlike item and is never used again within the enterprise.

Serial number within the part, lot, or batch number means a combination of numbers or letters assigned by the enterprise to an item that provides for the differentiation of that item from any other like item within a part, lot, or batch number assignment.

Serialization within the enterprise identifier means each item produced is assigned a serial number that is unique among all the tangible items produced by the enterprise and is never used again. The enterprise is responsible for ensuring unique serialization within the enterprise identifier.

Serialization within the part, lot, or batch number means each item of a particular part, lot, or batch number is assigned a unique serial number within that part, lot, or batch number assignment. The enterprise is responsible for ensuring unique serialization within the part, lot, or batch number within the enterprise identifier.

Unique item identifier means a set of data elements marked on items that is globally unique and unambiguous.

Unique item identifier type means a designator to indicate which method of uniquely identifying a part has been used. The current list of accepted unique item identifier types is maintained at http://www.acq.osd.mil/dpap/UID/uid_types.html.

(b) The Contractor shall deliver all items under a contract line, subline, or exhibit line item.

(c) DoD unique item identification or DoD recognized unique identification equivalents.

(1) The Contractor shall provide DoD unique item identification, or a DoD recognized unique identification equivalent, for

(i) All delivered items for which the Governments unit acquisition cost is $5,000 or more; and

(ii) The following items for which the Governments unit acquisition cost is less than $5,000:

Contract Line, Subline, or Exhibit Line Item Number	Item Description
(iii) Subassemblies, components, and parts embedded within delivered items as specified in Attachment Number ____.
(2) The concatenated unique item identifier and the component data elements of the DoD unique item identification or DoD recognized unique identification equivalent shall not change over the life of the item.

PARTNERING

AUG/2001

AMC

(a) In an effort to most effectively accomplish the objectives of this contract, it is proposed that the government, the contractor, and its major subcontractors engage in the Partnering process.

(b) Participation in the Partnering process is entirely voluntary and is based upon a mutual commitment between government and industry to work cooperatively as a Team to identify and resolve problems and facilitates contract performance. The primary objective of the process is providing the American soldier with the highest quality supplies/services on time and at a reasonable price. Partnering requires the parties to look beyond the strict bounds of the contract in order to formulate actions that promote their common goals and objectives. It is a relationship that is based upon open and continuous communication, mutual trust and respect, and the replacement of the "us vs. them" mentality of the past with a "win-win" philosophy for the future. Partnering also promotes synergy, creative thinking, pride in performance, and the creation of a shared vision for success.

(c) After contract award, the government and the successful offeror will decide whether or not to engage in the Partnering process. Accordingly, offerors shall not include any anticipated costs associated with the implementation of the Partnering process in their proposed cost/price (e.g. cost of hiring a facilitator and conducting the Partnering Workshop). If the parties elect to partner, any costs associated with that process shall be identified and agreed to after contract award.

(d) The establishment of this Partnering arrangement does not affect the legal responsibilities or relationship of the parties and cannot be used to alter, supplement or deviate from the terms of the contract. Any changes to the contract must be executed in writing by the Contracting Officer.

(e) Implementation of this Partnering relationship will be based upon the AMC Model Partnering Process, as well as the principles and procedures set forth in the AMC Partnering Guide. The principal government representatives for this effort will be Cheryl Nielsen, PCO.

information described in the following paragraphs. The Contracting Officer may require additional supporting information, but only to the extent necessary to determine whether an exception should be granted, and whether the price is fair and reasonable.

(i) Identification of the law or regulation establishing the price offered. If the price is controlled under law by periodic rulings, reviews, or similar actions of a governmental body, attach a copy of the controlling document, unless it was previously submitted to the contracting office.

(ii) Commercial item exception. For a commercial item exception, the offeror shall submit, at a minimum, information on prices at which the same item or similar items have previously been sold in the commercial market that is adequate for evaluating the reasonableness of the price for this acquisition. Such information may include-

(A) For catalog items, a copy of or identification of the catalog and its date, or the appropriate pages for the offered items, or a statement that the catalog is on file in the buying office to which the proposal is being submitted. Provide a copy or describe current discount policies and price lists (published or unpublished), e.g., wholesale, original equipment manufacturer, or reseller. Also explain the basis of each offered price and its relationship to the established catalog price, including how the proposed price relates to the price of recent sales in quantities similar to the proposed quantities;

(B) For market-priced items, the source and date or period of the market quotation or other basis for market price, the base amount, and applicable discounts. In addition, describe the nature of the market;

(C) For items included on an active Federal Supply Service Multiple Award Schedule contract, proof that an exception has been granted for the schedule item.

(2) The offeror grants the Contracting Officer or an authorized representative the right to examine, at any time before award, books, records, documents, or other directly pertinent records to verify any request for an exception under this provision, and the reasonableness of price. For items priced using catalog or market prices, or law or regulation, access does not extend to cost or profit information or other data relevant solely to the offeror's determination of the prices to be offered in the catalog or marketplace.

(b) Requirements for cost or pricing data. If the offeror is not granted an exception from the requirement to submit cost or pricing data, the following applies:

(1) The offeror shall prepare and submit cost or pricing data and supporting attachments in accordance with Table 15-2 of FAR 15.408.

(2) As soon as practicable after agreement on price, but before contract award (except for unpriced actions such as letter contracts), the offeror shall submit a Certificate of Current Cost or Pricing Data, as prescribed by FAR 15.406-2.
